

In this assignment, I chose “Player” class for the subclass of all other classes up to class “Money”. This allowed me to change variables dynamically and object oriented. In “Command” class, I created three objects: player 1, player 2 and banker and used other classes methods by their inherited attributes and methods. The aim of creating the “Command” class is to prevent complex and unsuitable looking for the “Main” class.

